Marketing Quotas For 1960 Cotton Apply To All

Marketing quotas for the 1960 crop of upland cotton apply to all producers—those who elect Choice (B) allotments as well as those with Choice (A) allotments, Fitzhugh Lee, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today.

Notices of the national average price support rate for both Choice (A) and Choice (B) cotton were recently mailed to all producers in the county.

Each cotton grower was given the size of his Choice (A) and Choice (B) allotment for 1960 before the cotton marketing quota referendum last December.

Cotton growers who want their Choice (B) allotments in effect for 1960 must file that decision with the ASC county office not later than March 16. The Choice (B) allotment for a farm is 4 percent larger than the regular Choice (A) allotment. Price support available for cotton produced on a Choice (B) allotment farm is 15 percent of parity less than for Choice (A) cotton.

Under the present law, a producer who does not elect the Choice (B) program will have the Choice (A) program in effect for his farm.

After the deadline of March 16 for electing a Choice (B) allotment there will, in general, be no changes from one allotment to another. Cotton produced on any acreage in excess of the chosen allotment for the farm will be subject to marketing quota penalties.

Bill To Develop Deer Island Is Presented To House

Jackson—Rep. Jerry O'Keefe of Harrison County introduced a bill into the House of Representatives to authorize Biloxi to develop Deer Island into a plush resort and residential area.

Last year, the Mississippi Supreme Court declared unconstitutional a 1958 act under which the development was authorized.

The new bill would create a bridge and park commission with authority to reclaim submerged lands, lease the lands issue bonds and construct public works.

The Supreme Court voided the 1958 act on grounds it was a local and private bill and plainly unconstitutional. O'Keefe's bill is general.

Biloxi proposes a 30 million-dollar development of the island to three times its present size. Residential sites, golf courses and other resort facilities are planned.

BOUNDARY LINE ACTION IS TAKEN

Jackson, Miss.—The state supreme court Monday cleared the way for Hancock County to change the boundary line between Supervisors' Districts Four and five, a move pending for nearly nine years.

An injunction issued in 1952 against the boundary change was dissolved by the supreme court. In making the ruling, Chief Justice Harvey McGehee said the former chancellor of Hancock County had erred in granting the injunction, since the board of Supervisors has statutory authority to change boundaries of a district by a unanimous vote of the board.

The chief justice held that the group of citizens who brought the injunctive action should be assessed the costs of the long-running case.

Attorneys Michael Haas of Bay St. Louis and Earl Wingo of Hattiesburg represented the appellants.

Edison Electric Institute Releases Report On Russian Electric Industry

A. J. Watson, president of Mississippi Power Company, has stated that the Edison Electric Institute today released a comprehensive report on the Russian electric industry. The report is based on the findings of five delegations of American electrical industry representatives who toured the Soviet Union in 1958 and again in 1959 at the request of the U. S. Department of State.

The 96-page study, titled, "A Report on USSR Electric Power Developments, 1958-1959," indicates that the United States' lead over the Soviet Union in electric power supply will increase from 124 million kilowatts to about 134 million kilowatts by 1965, a gain of 10 million.

At the end of 1959 the Russians had 59 million kilowatts and the United States had 183 million kilowatts, the report states. The difference between the two was then 124 million kilowatts.

The Russian goal for 1965 in the Soviet seven-year plan is 110-112 million kilowatts. Total capability for the United States is expected to be 245 million kilowatts in 1965. By that year the gap will have widened to about 134 million kilowatts, an increase of 10 million kilowatts over the lead in 1959.

(U. S. as well as Russian figures include, in addition to total electric utility industry, individual railway and industrial plants producing power for their own use. The non-utility portion of the U. S. representing about 10 percent of total capability in 1959, and will amount to about 8 percent of the 1965 total.)

In discussing the Soviet goals for 1965, the report points out the present Soviet seven-year plan constitutes a revision of a five-year plan that proved over-optimistic. While the original plan called for electric production of 230.2 billion kilowatt-hours in 1957, actual output was 209.7 billion kilowatt-hours, about 9 percent under the goal.

A reasonable indicator of a nation's total productive capacity and its people's well-being is the measure of kilowatt-hour use per capita. For the United States in 1959 this was about 4481 kilowatt-hours, compared with an estimated 1161 kilowatt-hours per capita for the Soviet Union. The Russian goal for 1965 is about 2100 kilowatt-hours. This compares with a forecast of about 6000 kilowatt-hours per capita for that year in the United States.

The report released by EEI shows that although the United States now has about three times the hydroelectric capacity of the Soviet Union, both nations have approximately 80 percent of their facilities in steam and 20 per cent in hydro. By 1965 the Russians expect the proportion of hydroelectric production to be reduced to about 15 percent. Construction of steam stations is to be emphasized in order to produce more electricity in less time and with less capital required.

Turning to transmission facilities the release reports that in 1957 Russia had about 48,400 miles of transmission lines of 35,000 volts and above. That year, the United States, with about one-third Russia's area, had 240,000 miles of comparable transmission lines, more than five times as much as the Soviet Union.

The Lakeshore Garden Club selected the George M. garden as its first Garden of the Month. The Garden of the Month Committee is composed of Ann Hutchinson, Belle Peterson and Ray Rasmussen.

Letters

Open Letter to the Public of Bay St. Louis, Junior Chamber of Commerce, P. T. A., K. of C. And Any Other Organization Religious or Otherwise:

I, Claude S. Bourgeois, pledge that Friday and Saturday, February 19-20, 1960 will be the last time I will play any condemned or sordid types of pictures in the Hi-Way Drive-In. It was necessary in my estimation to play the types of pictures that we have been playing at the Drive-In in order for self preservation, because after the summer tourist left the citizens of this county did not patronize the Drive-In Theatre.

The above pledge is binding by me only if the organizations now start patronizing and begin Drive-In Theatre. A Drive In Theatre is a city in any and all cases. We will do everything in our power to become citizens and work with all organizations. We ask you again to the Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre. If any organizations are involved would like to give me any criticism, than complaining about pictures we have been playing, which we are now continuing, please feel free to come in care of B & D Biloxi, Mississippi, P. O. 142.

The rolls you buy or have today for use tomorrow will have a better life if you freeze them. If you store them at room temperature, they will lose their freshness.

In recent experiments, bakers wrapped cinnamon and dinner rolls in cellophane soon after baking from them and stored for 72 hours. Wrapping soon after baking prevents moisture loss.

After defrosting, the frozen rolls had lost only half as much freshness as rolls stored at room temperature. They kept some of the rolls in frozen storage for two months without serious loss of freshness.

When you defrost frozen rolls, it's best to keep them covered to prevent them from losing too much moisture. Defrosting rolls, particularly cinnamon rolls in a place somewhat warmer than room temperature also helps maintain freshness.

TRAFFIC COURT CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT JACKSON

Mississippi judges, prosecutors, court officials and police officials have been invited to Jackson for the first annual Mississippi Traffic Court Conference. The conference is designed for officials who handle cases associated with traffic cases. The conference starts at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday, March 2, and continues until noon on Wednesday, March 4, 1960. It will be held on the Millsaps College Campus in Jackson, Miss. The participants will devote the greater part of the meeting to discussion of problems encountered daily in their communities. Ways and means of increasing public support will be discussed during the three day conference.

Such topics as Procedure in the Traffic Courtroom procedure in handling traffic cases, corrective penalization, youthful traffic offenders, establishment of a uniform traffic ticket will be discussed.

88 to 72 to a carton are the larger sizes.

For a quick punch—use frozen limeade concentrate as a base. All you have to do is add water or carbonated beverages. For a festive touch, float lime and orange slices atop the punch.

For plump, juicy raisins to mix in fruit cup or salad, simply let them stand in fruit juice for about half an hour.

Creamed or uncreamed cottage cheese doesn't make much difference in calorie content—just 12 calories for a half cup serving. Just enough cream is added to dry cottage cheese to add flavor and attractiveness.

Leaky Faucet. Drip, drip, drip—nothing is more irritating than a dripping faucet. While you're waiting for the right size washer, tool or the man-of-the-house to fix the leak, you can fix the drip so it won't get on your nerves. Just tie a string to the faucet handle and under the tap. Let the end hang down in the sink. You'll hear no drip as the water pours down the string.

Clermont Harbor Home Dem. Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Bayard Burleigh, president of the Clermont Harbor Home Demonstration Club, opened the Monday afternoon meeting with the thought for the month, "It's the song you sing and the smile you wear that's making the sunshine every where."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, who gave the devotional.

Mrs. Kirk Rheams presented the minutes of the January meeting and Mrs. John Saleeby, treasurer, gave her report. Mrs. Rousseau reported on the recent council meeting.

Members discussed plans for a dress review to be given at the Clermont Harbor School Auditorium at 1:30 p. m. April 12.

Mrs. Marcia Hughes, home Agent, gave a demonstration on pattern alterations.

A social hour followed the business session and refreshments were served by Mesdames Rheams, Rousseau, Burleigh, Simmons, Burdgett and Saleeby.

The next meeting will be held at 2 p. m. March 14 at the home of Mrs. Frank Simmons.

Mississippi National Guard Sponsors Essay Contest

Major William P. Wilson, the Adjutant General of Mississippi, has announced that an Essay Contest will be sponsored by the Mississippi National Guard for male senior students in public and parochial high schools. The four essays judged the best of those submitted in the State will be entered in the national George Washington Awards for Young Citizens Essay Contest which is being sponsored by the National Guard Association of the United States.

National winners will be awarded scholarships totaling $2,250.00 with a first scholarship award of $1,000.00.

The purpose of the essay contest, General Wilson said, is to encourage senior high school students to give special attention to areas of United States history which emphasize the sacrifices that were made by Americans in arms to win and to preserve the freedom this country continues to enjoy.

The essay subject for 1960 is "GEORGE WASHINGTON—COLONEL OF MILITIA."

General Wilson announced that the following general rules will govern the contest:

All essays will be written at a time and place designated by local National Guard representatives and under supervision of a National Guard School representative.

Contestants will be expected to do necessary research prior to the announced date of the essay assembly.

The essays submitted in the State will be judged by a Board appointed by the Adjutant General. The four essays judged to be the best submitted will be entered in a nationwide contest. General Wilson said that detailed information will be published in the various communities by National Guard or school authorities.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SULPHUR

During recent years, technological changes in some industries and shifts in fertilizer manufacture and usage together with increasing crop yields have all operated to reduce the amount of available sulphur in the soil. Sulphur is an essential plant food element. A planned program of sulphur fertilization would replace dependence on incidental additions of sulphur in fertilizers, rainwater, atmosphere and insecticides.

be discussed at the meeting. Many city judges, prosecutors, mayors, justices of the peace and county attorneys have shown great interest in this conference.

Sponsored by the Junior Bar Section of the Mississippi State Bar, Law School of the University of Mississippi, the school is being scheduled in cooperation with the American Bar Association and the Traffic Institute of Northwestern University.

Additional information may be received by writing to the Mississippi Traffic Court Conference, Post Office Box 678, Jackson, Mississippi.

PERIODIC VEHICLE INSPECTION NOW UNDER STUDY

House Bill 50 calling for periodic motor vehicle inspection and now under study by the House highways and highway financing committee is must legislation, state safety officials contend.

It remains to be seen whether legislators will agree. Passage of strong motor vehicle inspection legislation would remove trap autos from the highways or at least eliminate a large portion of the unsafe vehicles — which safety experts unanimously agree is a necessary step in reducing traffic accidents and the deaths which result from these accidents.

Motorists themselves have long cried for "ridding the highway of the traps." As taxpayer and the voters, theirs is the final say.

So some legislative observers feel that the Mississippi Safety Council proposed bill introduced in the House by Rep. Frank Shanahan of Warren County has a good chance for passage this term.

Provisions of proposed HB 50 would require semi-annual inspection of each motor vehicle for mechanical defects.

Public Safety Commissioner Tom Scarbrough, as well as the Patrol's Northwestern Traffic Institute-trained public relations-safety education Director Grady Gilmore, feel there should be no exceptions.

Gilmore says any exemption would defeat the purpose of the motor vehicle inspection law. "Either all or none," he states. The powerful Mississippi Transport Association does not even want to be left out, but has asked that members be permitted to maintain their own inspection stations under Department of Public Safety supervision.

Commissioner Scarbrough feels that this would be quite satisfactory provided the fleet operators meet all inspection station requirements.

Inspection stations set up to perform the actual checks would be privately owned but licensed and supervised by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol. Virginia has successfully used a similar checking program for years and the 19 states which have motor vehicle inspection show a mileage death rate far below Mississippi.

Owen Cooper, Yazoo City industrialist and president of the Mississippi Safety Council, calls motor vehicle inspection "prob-

FUTURE WEED CONTROL

Hancock County you are saving money when you let us take over your pasture. Using 2-4-D in the recommended manner you can get rid of the weeds that crowd out the good grass and legumes and the fertilizer you put down the desirable crops.

There are some tips for controlling several of your most common weeds. First remember to spray when the temperature is 60 degrees F. or above. Then play it follow all recommendations.

Control: Dock—apply one pound of 2-4-D per acre during early spring before stalks appear.

CORN PRODUCTION
Plan for high corn yields in 1960. Some of the big items to consider in planning for more corn per acre include: Selecting good land, using high fertilizer, using adapted hybrid seed corn and good weed control.

Now is a good time to get lime spread on corn land. Research has shown that use of lime on land needing lime will up yields around 20 per cent.

SOCIAL SECURITY
The Social Security tax you pay on your earnings is to cover the cost of benefits that go into millions of American homes when the breadwinner dies, becomes disabled or gets too old to work. Some day your family will also be entitled to these payments.

So that the Social Security fund will always be "in the black," Congress has provided a series of tax increases over the next 10 years. You will be paying 3 percent of the first $4800 of your pay into social security in 1960—this is up from the 2½ percent you paid in 1959.

BREAKFAST AROUND THE WORLD

No matter how you spell it, pronounce it or eat it, breakfast is a world-wide nutritional necessity and perhaps the most important meal of the day.

Breakfast is called by many names in many countries, and the foods served are as varied as the names. In quite a few countries the breakfast is similar to that served in the United States. Bread, plain or toasted, a beverage, meat or eggs or both, cereal, and fruit juice are standard in many countries.

In Mexico, Spain, Argentina and other Latin and South American countries, breakfast is termed desayuno, the first meal of the day. Urban Mexican breakfasts often are much like our own. In rural Mexico, frioles con chizno (beans with Mexican sausage) grace the table. In Spain and Argentina the continental breakfast is the first meal. It usually includes coffee or chocolate and rolls. A more substantial breakfast is eaten later.

The Chinese start the day with a cup of tea. The following mid-morning breakfast, chao tsan, may include cakes, soup, rice, vegetable bowls with chopped meat, fish or poultry and preserved or fresh eggs. Japan's breakfast, choshiyoku, is fundamentally the same.

Ireland's breakfast is a substantial meal which includes cereal, eggs, bacon and large amounts of bread with butter and jam. The British are good trenchermen at the breakfast table. Menus may include cooked cereal, toast or muffins and jam, a beverage, and a main course which could be kippered herring, sausage with potatoes, broiled kidneys or steak and kidney pie. France's petit déjeuner and Italy's piccola colazione are continental breakfasts. However the Italians may add cheese and fruit to the menu. Breakfast in the Netherlands, ontbijt, is not to be taken lightly. Toast and rolls, hot cereal, a beverage, smoked beef, eggs and at least two kinds of cheese are included.

Even a world traveler would be hard pressed to recognize breakfast by many of its names. In Czechoslovakia it's snidani; in Yugoslavia, doručak, and in Poland, śniadanie. In Iceland, breakfast is morgun-natur; in Greece, progymna; Turkey, kahvalti. The morning meal in Germany is fruehstueck; in Norway it's frokost and in Sweden, frukost. In the Philippine Islands, breakfast is pang-una-ahana, and in Portugal it's called simply café.

Whatever its name, breakfast is the most universal of meals. The menus are varied but in most cases the food served is of the type and amount to provide a breakfast adequate to relieve the hunger which follows a night's fast and to provide the body's nutritional requirements essential to physical and mental well being.

D. A. National Defense Council To Display Unsatisfactory Text Books
The forty odd textbooks used in the public schools of Mississippi, declared unsatisfactory by the Mississippi D. A. R., will be placed on public display February 25-27, in the lobby of the Edward Jackson, Miss. On February 29th, the exhibit will be moved to the Library on the second floor of the new State Capitol where it will remain through March 5th. The hours at both locations will be 9:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.

The public is cordially invited to examine these books and the accompanying reviews as prepared under the D. A. R. Textbook Evaluation Program. Also to be displayed are the public records of writers cited objectionable by the D. A. R. whose works appear in textbooks, or are recommended or required for supplemental reading and study.

SAFE TIRES AND BRAKES IMPORTANT
Slack pavements of Mississippi in winter make it advisable for all motorists to heed the advice that defective tires and brakes are major sources of traffic accidents. As a routine precaution, it is always a good idea to make certain that tires and brakes are in first-class condition.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGETS

MORE ON THE BUDGET
For some years we have been greatly concerned over the threat of inflation and the part that deficit spending by the federal government plays in encouraging the spiral of ever-rising prices.

We all have felt the effect of this trend, but of course, inflation has not been the least able to withstand it—those who draw veterans pensions, retirement, social security, old age assistance, or have other low fixed incomes.

We have long contended that a major contributor to inflation has been non-essential Federal expenditures, and we have laboriously along with other like-minded Members of Congress to cut this spending. Our efforts, however, have not been crowned with the success we would like.

Instead of paying off the gargantuan public debt of 280 billion dollars in the years of prosperity, as a prudent man would do on a private debt, we have increased the debt by deficits pending.

As we have said many times, we fear the danger of inflation more than threat of Russia. We must call a halt and put our fiscal house in order.

VARIOUS TYPES OF EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURED IN MISSISSIPPI
Farm equipment made in Mississippi ranges from heavy power-driven equipment to the plow, and in the field of industrial machinery, Mississippi's manufacturers lend their talents to three principal industries — lumber, petroleum and road building. Sawmill machinery of almost every kind is built here for sale throughout the United States and for export to foreign countries. Heavy self-driven earth moving equipment, road scrapers and dump trucks made in Mississippi are in daily use in the state's extensive highway construction program. Mississippi's growing oil industry has attracted in recent years the manufacturers of oil field equipment.

Larry Ladner, 5-F, To Graduate in May

Larry Ladner, 5-F, fast-moving guard from Kiln, Miss., graduates in May. Louisiana's Wildcat basketball aggregation will lose one of its most colorful performers of recent years.

A fierce competitor who makes up in spirit what he lacks in size, Larry has been one of the main reasons why Coach Billy Allgood's L. C. cagemen have already turned in their best season in more than a decade. (The 'Cats had won 13 of 22 starts as of Feb. 15.)

Before entering Louisiana College in the fall of 1958, young Ladner sparked at Pearl River Junior College, Poplarville, Miss., for two years, 1955-57.

At Kiln (Miss.) High School, the Feline "Toy Bulldog" was an "All-Everything" in basketball, he was All-State in 1955 as well as Hancock County's Most Valuable player. He was rewarded for his prep school brilliance by being selected to play in the Mississippi-North-South hardwood game that year. Larry is the only Kiln player ever to be so honored.

Also, the speedy athlete averaged 25 points per game his senior year during which time he was South Mississippi's highest scoring high-school guard. But he didn't confine his high school athletic activities to the roundball game. His high school sponsored varsity football only during his senior year, so Larry proceeded to make All-Conference quarterback and out-score all his Kiln High grid teammates. He also further evidenced his versatility by lettering in baseball at his home-town school.

At Pearl River Junior College he continued his fine play in the gridiron and cage sports. It didn't take the hustling 170 pounder long to win the heart of Louisiana College fandom during the 1958-59 basketball season. He saw a great deal of service with the Wildcat hoopers until he sustained a broken hand late in the season.

This injury, suffered in the second 1959 Northeast Louisiana-L. C. tilt, last February, still bothers him and has handicapped his play somewhat this campaign. At Louisiana College, Larry has again proven himself a leader in other fields (he was president of his high school class for four straight years at Kiln.) The aggressive Magnolia Stater is president of the L. C. Physical Education Majors Club, a Student Congress representative, and holds memberships in the Cadman Society and in the Student National Education Association.

Ladner is majoring in physical education and minoring in social studies at Louisiana College. He plans to coach as soon as he receives his B. A. degree in May. "He should make an A-1 coach, for he has all the attributes. His potential in that field is great," opined Mentor Allgood, who is a Jackson, native and an

CHEMICALS ARE MANUFACTURED IN MISSISSIPPI
The processing of vegetable and animal oils and fats leads the chemical manufacturing field in Mississippi. Cotton seed provide the bulk of the raw material used. From this useful plant comes the base for cooking and salad oils, shortening, and feed for livestock. Increased production of tung oil has led the establishment of paint and varnish factories. Fish meal and marine oils are produced on the Gulf Coast. Chemicals, both organic and inorganic, are produced and refined in growing quantities.

OUT OF THE GULF TO WARM HER BATH

As long as Susie can splash in warm water, she doesn't care how it got heated. But the natural gas that warmed Susie's bath water was once thousands of feet down in the earth. Mother Nature stored it in strange and hard-to-find locations. Some, perhaps the very gas that is used in your home, came from far below the muddy floor of the Gulf of Mexico.

Natural gas is the homemaker's silent helper, ready to work immediately in your automatic gas water heater, your smart new gas range, your gas dryer, or your central heating and cooling system. Gas does all of the big jobs in the home at surprisingly low cost... and we're doing everything possible to keep it the biggest bargain in your family budget.

JUNIOR COLLEGES IMPORTANT

Junior colleges have long been an important part of Mississippi's education system, even though they have been neglected or underrated in various other state education systems. However, the junior colleges have begun to take on new importance throughout the entire state. Already, half the students who go to four-year colleges in Mississippi first attend junior colleges. In the past this has been true largely because of the low cost of attending such close-to-home institutions.
